

The Saguaro Sol

Saltzman AZ Winter Nearing the End!

From A to Z from AZ

1. Best line of the month: Cameron said of the Movie Making Classes Glenn has been taking, "He accidentally tapped the red button on his camera and now he thinks he's Cecil B. DeMille!"
2. The contest for the name of next year's newsletter has begun...we live in Lemon Tree Place, in Chandler, in AZ...and need a snappy new name for the 2013 Edition. Last year's winners, Carol and Viki are eligible, and there will be a prize befitting the winning entry, in addition to the coveted Orville. (Susie: Please Do Not Submit an Entry!)
3. Read One Thousand Acres and The Known World...both really good. See www.goodreads.com to get reading suggestions, and for compiling your reading list.
4. This in the penultimate Saguaro Sol...so, be bored until 2013!

Our last month has been very busy: we have continued hiking and have transversed the highest trails on South Mountain; rode horses with Viv and Ward and watched a roping contest; got a turquoise neckless for Orville; watched the cactus bloom in front of our townhouse (Neighbors explained we don't live in a condo, but rather a townhouse, don't cha know!); and, saw the Cubs & Snakes, with grandson Dan.

It has been a wonderful winter and we are happy the weather in OH has been mild. We still haven't decided which route to take going home...but are leaning towards the southern route as the weather is less problematic...only 2200 miles!!!

While golfing the other day, one of my friends said he had some "unfinished business" at the bank after we completed our round. I started thinking about "Unfinished Business" as a Life Issue and believe that is a problem facing many of us, especially as we grow older. We all need to resolve unfinished issues which cause discomfort..it's never too late to say "I'm Sorry" or "I Love You."
